ABSTRACT

Prior to your first thesis deposit, replace this text with the text of your scientific/scholarly abstract. The text of this abstract should be double spaced and each new paragraph should be indented.

This abstract is required for everyone except DMA and MFA students.
PUBLIC ABSTRACT

Prior to your first thesis deposit, replace this text with the text of your public abstract. The text of this abstract should be double spaced and each new paragraph should be indented. The text may be altered between first and final deposits. This abstract is required for all thesis/dissertations.

The public abstract is to be placed at this point in your first and final deposit and submitted via webform at final deposit. This abstract may be up to 250 words and should be written for a non-academic lay audience. In writing your public abstract, avoid jargon and technical language as much as possible.

The ability to communicate research simply and clearly is an important skill when interviewing for faculty positions, as well as for positions in industry and alt-ac sectors. The public abstract helps convey ideas beyond one’s immediate academic circle, facilitating communication with colleagues who do different kinds of work and possess different dimensions of training.

Think of your public abstract as your “elevator pitch” or what you might tell someone who asks, “What is your thesis about?” You may only have a few minutes to explain it to them while keeping their attention and using terminology you are sure they will understand without further lengthy explanation.

Another way to think of your public abstract is like the description you would read on the inside of a book cover.
TABLE OF CONTENTS

If you have used Styles in the thesis (see below), you will be able to generate a Table of Contents automatically. The Table of Contents includes three preset Styles: TOC 1, TOC 2, and TOC 3. TOC 1 corresponds to Heading 1, TOC 2 corresponds to Heading 2, and TOC 3 corresponds to Heading 3. The Table of Contents entries are formatted to help you meet the formatting requirements of the Graduate College.

To generate your Table of Contents, make sure that you have applied the Heading 1, Heading 2, and Heading 3 styles in the body of the thesis. Then, go to Insert, Index and Tables, Table of Contents, and click OK. A sample Table of Contents follows:

Prior to your first deposit, replace this text with the text of your Preface. The Preface should be double spaced and new paragraphs should be indented.

THIS PAGE IS OPTIONAL
HEADING 1: INFORMATION ON HOW TO FORMAT YOUR MAJOR HEADINGS

Heading 1 is the style you should use for the following headings in your thesis: List of Tables, List of Figures (List of Abbreviations, Schemes, and so on), Chapter titles, References, and Appendix titles. If you are writing in APA style, note that the titles formatted as Heading 1 do not count as an APA heading.

To assign this heading level, type the heading text (fully capitalized), highlight it, and click on Heading 1 in the ribbon at the top of the page.

If you want to change the appearance of Heading 1, do so in the Styles ribbon at the top of the page (right click on Heading 1, and go to Modify). That way, all of your headings will be uniform.

If you want your headings to automatically number the chapters and sections of each chapter, make an appointment to discuss heading layout.

Heading 2: Use For Your Broadest Subheading Level, Centered, Bold, Uppercase and Lowercase

Heading 2 is the first major subheading style. If you are writing in APA style, this heading corresponds to a Level 1 APA heading. To assign this heading level, type the heading text, highlight it, and click on Heading 2 in the ribbon at the top of the page.

If you want to change the appearance of Heading 2, do so in the Styles ribbon at the top of the page (right click on Heading 2, and go to Modify). That way, all of your headings will be uniform.
Heading 3: Use For Your Next Heading Level, Left-aligned, Bold, Uppercase and Lowercase

Heading 3 is the second major subheading style. If you are writing in APA style, this heading corresponds to a Level 2 APA heading. To assign this heading level, type the heading text, highlight it, and click on Heading 3 in the ribbon at the top of the page.

If you want to change the appearance of Heading 3, do so in the Styles ribbon at the top of the page (right click on Heading 3, and go to Modify). That way, all of your headings will be uniform.

Heading 4: This heading is indented, bold, lowercase

This is an additional heading level, should your thesis require this level of specificity.
